We present you the YEMA - Youth Exchange Mobile App!

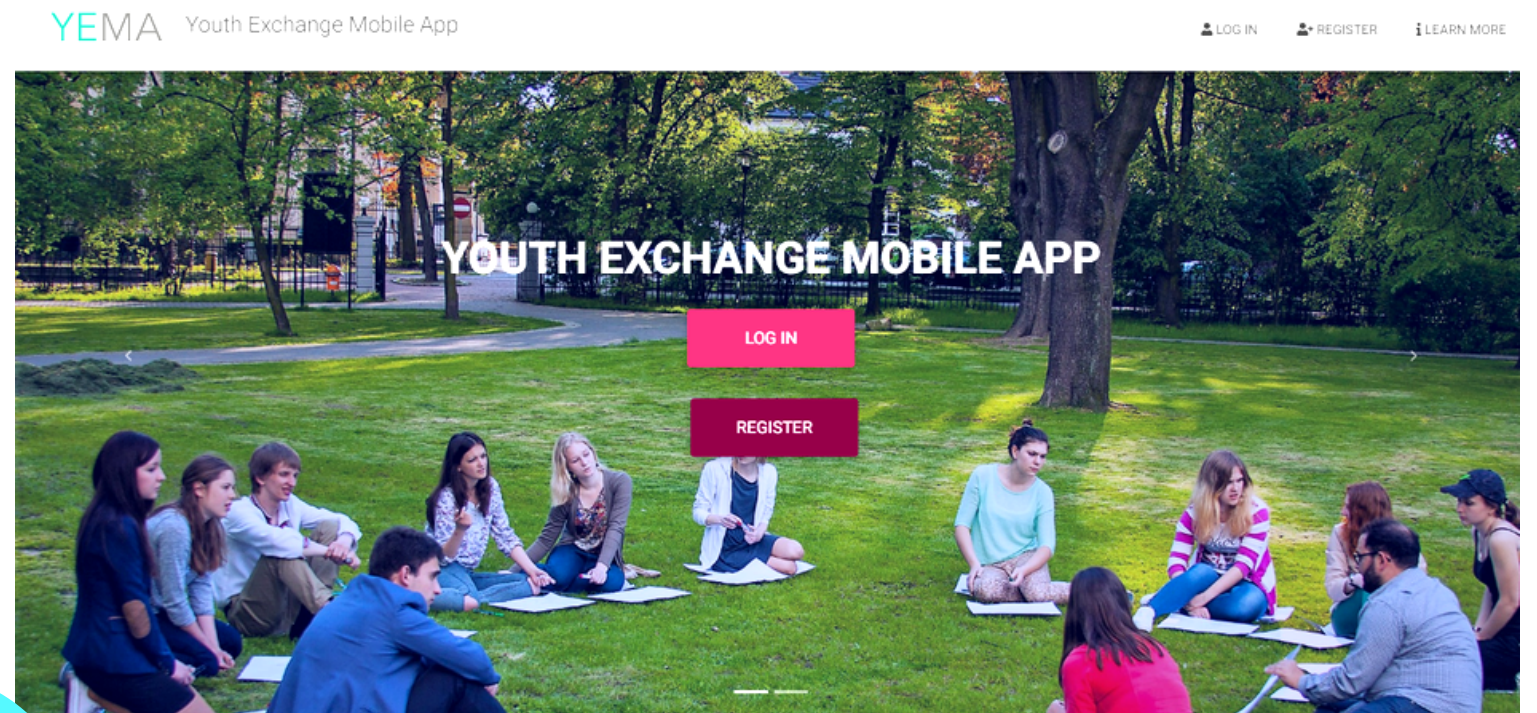

During the project we developed a mobile application, which is a teaching tool supporting international youth exchanges. The application covers all functionalities required for project communication, project-based implementation, project management, networking and results dissemination.

The application is an example of the effective use of information and communication technology (ICT) in education and training for youth. The project is innovative and promotes the use of new technologies as a driving force for change for the better in the field of youth education and training.
